It's important to be aware of the people that pass through you building on a day to day basis. Whether it's a large apartment complex or one small room within a building, access control is an effective method of controlling who goes in & out of certain areas. There are several types of equipment available ranging from simple card swipe devices for single doors, to software based systems for programming proximity cards. Apartment buildings can also be controlled using intercom systems that force callers to identify themselves before being granted access by the tenant. It's a reliable & effective method of keeping your building & property safe & secure. For more information about the Controlled Access Solutions we offer, contact us today.
